

Brainstorming with Bob...

Want to kick your latest great idea around and explore the possibilities?

I'm as close as a Skype call.

Take advantage of 3 decades of design and marketing savvy buried in Bob's mind.

"There is nothing I like better than to be involved in a give and take over a marketing or advertising idea."

You can share your approach to a problem or opportunity and pick my mind. Sometimes two heads are better than one and, together, we can find a creative solution that works for you and your company.

I may be a Mac guy but, I have had great success with Skype. We can pool multiple minds on the same call or video conference. We can share our screens and work up ideas on the fly. I can record the conversation so that we don't forget what we talked about.

I'm here for you whenever you need me.
